WHY WE ARE HERE - ATHENA SWARUU

Gosia.- It is this part of Anéeka's that I would like to expand on.

Anéeka of Temmer.- Out here in terms of material things there are few or no shortages, what matters is what exists in terms of consciousness-manifestation of realities and control over these two things.

Gosia.- As a manifestation of realities? Up there they also manifest and control realities, why be interested in the Earth for that?

Athena Swaruu.- Because the Earth is not independent and never has been, it is just one of those many realities that are created from up here and from above.

Robert.- And why control over that, does it provide any benefit?

Anéeka of Temmer.- It means everything, the control over what you will experience as a race, as a species and as a culture, your future, what you can call your reality. That's what they get as profit.

Gosia.- I did not understand this either, are the extraterrestrials interested in the Earth because it gives them control over what they will experience as a race, their future, in what way?

Robert.- I imagine that it gives them control over their seeds as human experiences on Earth.

Anéeka of Temmer.- Well, I don't know what Anéeka meant, but I suppose that spiritual advancement will give souls, for lack of a better name, more control over what they will manifest and experience in their next lives.

Gosia.- But that's the point, is it just one of those many realities where realities manifest and control, why so much interest on Earth with that?

Anéeka of Temmer.- I think that you are only seeing the interest that is shown for the Earth and not the interest that is shown for all the other places, it is just that they have the attention here from you and from this group.

Gosia.- Ah! So there is also interest in other places as well.

Anéeka of Temmer.- Yes, or not the same, some more than others, but that is something enormous and subjective, see it as a shopping center, the Earth is full of activity for better and for worse, controversy and fighting, but there are other shopping centers full of similar and not so similar people, also buzzing with activity.

Gosia.- I understand, but I still don't understand why there is an interest in the Earth for the manifestation of realities, why don't they look at other planets, or their own, for that? Realities manifest anywhere, Earth or not, right? You can be in Erra and be manifesting realities, what does Earth have in this aspect?

Anéeka of Temmer.- Seeing it from the point of view of the spiritual progress that one has by having incarnated on Earth, as a school for souls as has been said before, as a school to advance with those experiences as there is a greater expansion of consciousnesses, later outside of the terrestrial incarnation you will already have greater control over what you wish to experience and what worlds to create, but I must also clarify that it is not only those who incarnate on Earth as such, it is not something defined and rigid, but rather there's a whole range of in-betweens between completely weird aliens on distant planets, having nothing to do with Earth, and completely classic humans, if there is such a thing, excusing that it's all ultimately connected of course.

The terrestrial experience, or the experience that the Earth offers, is not only for those who incarnate as humans, but also for others as a role play. Humans as such are not just one thing either, as has already been said, there are star seeds of countless races, some similar others not, old souls who have incarnated as humans for countless lives, aliens who enter there with no memory, only 1 or 2 sometimes or rarely, other entire aliens who are just visiting, or who move to live there knowing what they are, like a walk down, because they dress and act normal and pass for humans without being humans.

The list is very long and the variants of having a human experience are many, and that I only do the level of human experience, it would also be necessary to add the experience that the Earth gives to souls, to people who get involved with things of the Earth without being human, the experience of the extraterrestrials who have their attention here with all their variables and variants, races and ideologies; all of this offers the Earth as a game of errors seen from high densities, of course where someone non-human plays at being a guide for humanity in countless ways, and others not so much, with a complex range and intermediate gradient.

This is an important point that my mother always emphasizes to me about humanity, about being able to explain this class of concepts that turns out that the average human mind, the people, the bulk of the population does not handle complex things well, they always want the simple explanation that everything has a reason, not many, that things are clear, not that they need a lot of power and mental resources to understand everything. Then they see long and complicated explanations as coming from someone who does not know, and they hang labels on them as far-fetched explanations or strange explanations, but the truth is that there is no absolute truth, everything is relative, to understand something you need a framework of understanding of any previous class that gives it a necessary framework so that from there more complicated things and concepts are understood, there is not a single reason for things, everything is extremely complex, and if they want to impose a simple explanation it falls into reductionism, like the big-bang, that never happened whether or not it was mathematically feasible, which by the way it is not, remaining in only religion imposing a concept on science, the Yahweh or creative explosion. In short the Earth gives souls their own and others an enormous variety of enriching experiences with which to increase and promote their spiritual advancement that from then on will manifest better things.

Gosia.- Ask what is said above, many human seeds want to get out of here because they see it as hell, but are there step downs with full memory that move here? What interests them so much here, the cultural variety? (I speak of those who are not guides).

Anéeka of Temmer.- Note that everything is a matter of focus, where you have your attention.

Robert.- Yes, and he is still the creator of everything.

Gosia.- But the step downs who know what they are, their souls, no longer take from the experience the same things as humans, why do they move?

Anéeka of Temmer.- They don't get the same experience, but they get other experiences.

Gosia.- What, cultural experience? like when I travel to the Amazon?

Anéeka of Temmer.- As I said above, it is never all or nothing, but a whole gradient that the Earth can offer.

Robert.- But coming to Earth is a danger for them, although they continue to be the creators of their reality, they can stay in this loop, in this world.

Gosia.- So with all that explained, it is clear that no one out there is interested in the Earth becoming interstellar. What the Earth now offers would be lost. What interests you?

Anéeka of Temmer.- Each person like this will have a different reason, some just because they like being there, because they like it? Well they will have their reasons, adventure, the exotic. Why is an English lord going to India at the end of the 19th century? He was in England with money and position, a big house and luxury carriages, he goes for the experience of the exotic, for the adventure and for the need to return to show off to his friends that they were there to annoy a tiger, or what do I know. The same here.

Gosia.- Yes, I understand this well, obviously.

Robert.- The Earth has to be as it is, if it doesn't lose grace.

Anéeka of Temmer.- Very good point, yes exactly and unfortunately. It's a jungle, it's India in the 19th century, like going to India back then, you go there because there are elephants and jungles full of tigers.

Gosia.- Then why was it being advised if humans were ready for open contact then, that would break the terrestrial experience.

Anéeka of Temmer.- That is the argument of many here, that is what they say, that we are wasting time, to which my answer would be because we also want the experience of trying to help, if they do not like that they return to Temmer, to do whatever they want.

Gosia.- But help as in making them remember who they are, yes? But official open contact with extraterrestrial races would somehow break it all at once, so why the First Contact project, what for? That would break everything if direct official contact is made.

Anéeka of Temmer.- Ultimately because it is another experience for those who are here.

Robert5.- Perhaps it is to give some hope to the seeds that are having a bad time here, to tell them that this continues, that it does not end here on Earth.

Gosia.- Do you mean you here?

Anéeka of Temmer.- Yes, because it is another group of experiences that you have during a life or incarnation, that is why I tell you the Earth is not only what it offers as a place to incarnate as a human, but all the other variants of interaction and of experiences that the place offers to non-human people, and to humans alike.
